MEYWOOD-WAKFIELD

ESTABLISHED 1826

OLD COLONY Furniture

Offers you broad variety, sturdy construction, excellent styling

In the current 1940-41 line,

Heywood-Wakefield offers you again a splendid selection of well styled, rigidly constructed pieces for every room in the home. Scores of interesting patterns, fashioned by foremost American designers in close cooperation with us and with prominent buyers, indicate a trend toward more graceful motifs. This achievement in styling, along with the usual Heywood quality, brings this current Old Colony line to a new high peak in salability and customer appeal . . . gives you the kind of furniture you want because you know it will sell from your floors. After you review this catalogue, we feel sure you will agree that Old Colony has that extra eye appeal . . . that distinctive styling which furniture buyers want in their Maple sections and which discriminating customers desire in their homes. That's one of the main reasons why Old Colony furniture has produced profits for retailers all over America . . . why it assures you of steady repeat business at the worthwhile mark up you are endeavoring to maintain.

you will find a wide range of suites and single pieces, from popularly priced promotional items to the impressive distinctive suites in the Living, Dining, and Bedroom sections. The entire upholstered line has been revised, re-priced, and brought to a point where it can work wonders for you if you stock and display it. Some excellent and noteworthy additions to the Dining room line have been made, particularly in tables and chairs. And, in the Bedroom section, Heywood-Wakefield introduces for the first time, a related ensemble, featuring break-front designs. Of course, the two popular Heywood finishes are again available . . . Priscilla Maple, the hand blended ruddy tone that has been a tremendous favorite for years . . . or Salem Maple, the blended honeytone which is coming into broad appeal, particularly on the turned stock pieces.

The majority of pieces in the Old Colony line are fashioned from selected stock of clear, close grained, hard Yellow Birch, a beautiful American wood which has been associated with furniture making since early Pilgrim days. While the Yellow Birch is an exceptionally hard, durable wood, its fibres have extraordinary resilience. Hence, this fine furniture wood is better fitted by Nature to absorb (and thus not show) mars, dents, and bruises which are apt to occur from use. On some less expensive Old Colony pieces we use a good grade of Northern Maple, another hardwood long associated with fine furniture making.

We believe that the Old Colony line which is shown in this catalogue will help you to build a profitable and lasting good will . . . that it will maintain the reputation of your store because it is backed by the 114-year reputation of the Heywood-Wakefield Company . . . and that it will please you and satisfy your customers in every detail.

HEYWOOD-WAKEFIELD

OLD COLONY Advertising

To bring you new, profitable customers

Each year, these four national magazines are carrying more than 40,000,000 sales and advertising messages right into the homes of good prospects in your trading area. You can turn these prospects into new, profitable customers with a complete Old Colony setup.

To assist you in your local newspaper advertising of Old Colony Furniture, we offer a large assortment of newspaper mats prepared by experts. For information on the Old Colony Free Mat Service, ask your H-W Sales Representative or write to the Advertising Department, Heywood-Wakefield Company, Gardner, Mass.

Steadily and consistently, Heywood-Wakefield backs its Old Colony Furniture with a powerful, carefully planned campaign in the four leading home magazines. Experience has shown that this national advertising not only builds a nationwide consumer acceptance for Old Colony Furniture but that it actually sends new, profitable prospects into furniture and department stores all over the country. Old Colony advertisements have created tremendous interest . . . have brought forth thousands of inquiries each month from homemakers who want to know where they may see . . . where they may buy the Old Colony pieces illustrated in our advertisements or in the Old Colony consumer booklet shown to the left. Old Colony advertising makes your floor selling easier, quicker, and more profitable because it builds confidence in this quality built line and the 114-year old reputation of its maker . . . Heywood-Wakefield Company. That is why we suggest that you stock, advertise, and feature complete Old Colony groupings . . . why we believe it will prove one of the best merchandising moves you could make in your Maple Section.

This beautiful, 24 page booklet, printed in two colors (with natural color view on cover) is used to answer inquiries resulting from our national magazine advertising. Close to 150,000 are mailed out to interested consumers each year. At a nominal cost, we supply it imprinted with your store signature (envelopes, too). For further information write to the Advertising Department, Heywood-Wakefield Co., Gardner, Mass.

This beautiful display card is available free of charge to all retailers who regularly handle the Heywood-Wakefield Old Colony line. It measures 19 1/2" x 28" and is printed in four colors and varnished. It is fitted with an easel so that you may use it as a standing or as a wall display card. This handsome sales aid comes to you well packed and protected in a special carton.

Heywood-Wakefield case goods are constructed on a patented floating frame principle which "takes up" expansion and contraction of the wood thus eliminating strain, open joints and checks. Heavier veneers than are commonly used are employed in dustproofing these cases throughout. Fully dovetailed construction and center drawer guides are other features that make the Heywood-Wakefield case goods line an outstanding value for your store. Screws, not nails, are used in all the pieces thus assuring you rigid and solid construction in all the case goods you buy from the Old Colony line.

CHAIRS AND TABLES FOR CONTRACT USE

Heywood-Wakefield Company is particularly well equipped to manufacture special chairs and tables for contract use. These include special sizes and types, heavy duty patterns for hospital, school, and other uses. Orders for such contract patterns can be accepted however, only when the quantity desired permits a reasonable and economical factory run. In our many years of experience we have produced special patterns for the U. S. Government, colleges, hotels, schools, Y. M. C. A.'s, baseball parks, radio stations, hospitals, etc. A distinct advantage in working with Heywood-Wakefield Old Colony Furniture is in the broad variety and the comprehensive selection of occasional and accessory pieces as shown in this catalogue.

Ever since 1826, Heywood-Wakefield has been well and favorably known as a quality "chair house". In its 114 years of manufacturing, the Company has turned out countless millions of chairs of all types and for all purposes. Today, many pieces which have been treasured and held by families for 40, 50 and 60 years are found, upon examination, to have old Heywood brand marks burned into them. This wealth of experience in furniture making is of inestimable value in the production of our Old Colony Furniture. It assures you and your customers of sound construction; flawless cabinet joining; fine, hand-blended finishing; and excellent workmanship throughout. It guarantees years and years of long, satisfying wear.
